Deck the Halls...with wonderful handmade ornaments from local artists!

Volume 1, Issue 9

The Friends of Jemez Springs Public Library have collected handmade holiday ornaments donated by local artists of all ages for sale to benefit the library. Made from cloth, wood, glass, paper, recycled cards, glitter, candy canes and a whole array of other ingenious materials, there is something for everyone to decorate homes, trees, or gifts. The ornaments are on display in the library along with sheets to note your choice and price you are willing to pay. The silent auction results and ornament payment and pick up will be on Saturday, December 13 from 3:00-8:00 in the Village Conference room during the crafts fair. Please come by the library in the next week to choose your favorites! (mine are the glittery birds made of recycled library cards created by the preschool Craft and Chat group!)
